Fresh faces at Forney Area Networking Group

2019 brings new leadership and new ideas to fuel growth.

FORNEY TX - Forney Area Networking Group (FANG) has been an institution in the Forney business community since 2011. The group of entrepreneurs operating in and around Forney meets every Tuesday to discuss business, hear from featured speakers, and more.

The group was founded by Tom Belobraydic, with support from Opal McKinney, Scott Gilmore, and Charlie Rondeau.

Scott Gilmore, FANG's last remaining "OG," will be stepping down as chairperson on May 28, 2019. Scott is the former owner of Housewarmer's of Forney, a talented dance instructor, and substitute teacher. Although he's retiring from full-time work to spend time with family and friends, he does plan to continue his work educating area children.

"It's been a pleasure to serve as chairperson for FANG these past almost eight years," said Mr. Gilmore. "It has also been a real education working with the hundreds of business people who attended our meetings."

"I'm especially grateful for the hard work and consistent support from both Jonathan Spiliotopoulos and Susan Bennett-White the past few years. I'm proud that they're taking over for me, and under their leadership I predict many positive changes for the group, fueled by the fresh energy they've already brought."

Susan is a highly respected and successful distributor for Team National, and uses her many skills to help coach families and business owners to become more prosperous. Jonathan is founder of The Creative Offices, a local website design and marketing communication agency dedicated to helping small businesses grow.

"Jonathan and I are very excited about our new format," says Mrs. Bennett-White. "We're going to have many business-oriented speakers, training classes, services, and more that will help our existing members and attract new members to the group."
